Further details for these practices are outlined in the practices’ Representative Profiles which accompany this FSG.

How will we advise you?

When you meet with us for financial advice, we will assess your current financial position, as well as your future goals and objectives and provide advice and recommendations which will take into account your personal circumstances.

The advice will come in the form of a written Statement of Advice (SoA), and will include:

- Our understanding of your personal circumstances and financial objectives;
- The strategies and actions we recommend and the basis for our recommendations;
- The financial services and /or products being recommended, and the reasons why;
- The fees and /or commissions that are paid to us and our representatives; and
- Disclosures of any associations we have with any financial product issuers or other parties which may have influenced our advice.

Subsequently, any time we give you further financial advice, we'll give you (and keep on file) another written record of that advice. You can request a copy any time by contacting your advisor.

Other documents you will receive from us

Where a further review is conducted, and personal advice is provided we will present you with either another SoA or Record of Advice (RoA). You may request a copy of the RoA from us by contacting us (on any of the contact details set out in this Guide) for a period of seven years from when the further advice was first provided to you.

As well as an SoA & RoA, where applicable, you will also receive a Product Disclosure Statement ("PDS") about any financial product we recommend (except for listed securities). Each PDS will outline the relevant product in detail including features, benefits, conditions, costs and cooling-off rights (if applicable), in order to assist you in making an informed decision about what is right for you.

Reviewing Your Financial Situation

We recommend you review your financial situation at least annually or when your personal or financial circumstances change. Reviewing your financial plan is an important step in the financial planning process as it makes sure you are on track to achieving your goals and objectives, whilst also ensuring that the advice remains appropriate for you. You should notify your advisor if your current financial situation changes.

What are the restrictions on our advice?

We generally recommend products that are listed on our Approved Product List (APL). This APL includes a wide range of investment products from financial product issuers.

Before a product can be added to the APL, we undertake a due diligence process and products are required to meet a certain minimum standard. At all times, we will ensure that our recommendations are in your best interests.
